HANNA

FACTION SUMMONS OHIO ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE

SAYING PRICE IS THE LIQUOR MEN'S CANDIDATE.

GEO. B. COX AND GEN. DICK

Will Take Active Part in the Legislative Fight—To Boost the Rival Candidates.

Washington, Jan. 2.—Relative to the Foraker-Hanna fight, Representative Grosvenor said today:

"It looks to me as if Hanna had a shade the best of it just now. I heard last night that the victory would be decided by just one vote. I think Senator Hanna will swing that vote when the show down takes place."

Columbus, Jan. 2.—Ohio Anti-Saloon League has been summoned into action by the Hanna forces and Superintendent Baker of the League, is bringing all possible pressure to bear on the temperance members to vote for McKinnon for speaker. The Hanna people declare that Price is the candidate of the liquor interests. It is highest trump held by the Hanna people and if Price is beaten the Anti-Saloon League will have done it.

Columbus, O., Jan. 2.—Statements were issued today from the headquarters of the rival forces in the contest over the organization of the Ohio legislature, both of these claiming to have the votes necessary to control the caucuses. From the McKinnon camp the following was issued: "We have not lost a man and several whom the other side insisted were doubtful have made declarations which leave their position no longer in doubt. W. S. McKinnon will be the next speaker of the lower house of the general assembly." They claim 39 votes sure, and say there is not the least danger of any of them jumping the fence. E. G. Biddison, state mine inspector and manager of the Price campaign, said: "We started into this fight with 41 votes for Price and we still have them, in spite of the extravagant claims by the Hanna men. We have not lost a vote and will not lose any. There are 41 members of the house who will vote for Aaron Price for speaker, and he will be elected."

A rumor that William B. Chittenden of Cleveland was a candidate for senate clerk, to be replaced by D. J. Hopkins, chairman of the county central committee in Cleveland, was denied.

It is probable that the hour of holding the house and senate caucuses, both of which have been called for 6 o'clock Saturday afternoon, will be changed. A number of the members of the house agitated the holding of the caucus at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, and a number of signatures were secured to a paper declaring for the earlier hour.

A dispatch from Akron says Congressman Charles Dick will leave for Columbus during the day and will assist the followers of Senator Hanna in the fight. He is expected here this evening. George B. Cox, the Hamilton county leader, will arrive during the day to remain until after the caucuses. He will labor for Price for speaker.

KNOCKED DOWN

And Painfully Hurt By a Cow Which He Was Leading Was William Morley.

William Morley, a young farmer residing north-west of the city, had an experience with a vicious cow on New Year's day that he will not forget. He was engaged in driving a cow and animal calf through the city, when the young calf frightened at some children and began plunging and bellowing. Morley attempted to hold the animal, which finally broke loose and charged him. He was knocked down and trampled on but was rescued before he was seriously injured. It seems that the cow had been shut up in a barn, where the calf was born comparatively blind. When the cow was taken out of the stable on Wednesday, the calf was unable to see, and it was this that caused the cow to become exceedingly nervous.

The first theatre in this country to be lighted with gas was a theatre in Philadelphia, which put in gas pipes in 1816.

DENOUNCED

Temperance Instruction as Given in the Public Schools—Professor Wm. T. Sedgwick's View.

Chicago, Jan. 2.—Scientific temperance instruction as taught in the public schools from the text books now in use, together with anti-vivisection, anti-vaccination and Christian science, were denounced by Professor William T. Sedgwick, president of the American Association of Naturalists, at a banquet. "Scientific temperance instruction," he said, "has grown to such proportions and has gained such power as to dominate almost all instruction in elementary physiology and hygiene in America. It is right, of course, that pupils should be taught the danger of alcohol and narcotics, but teachers often go too far, and it even appears that all instruction in physiology and hygiene in public schools has passed to a great and unjustifiable extent into the hands and under the subjection of the temperance propaganda."

Fuel Famine.
Roanoke, Va., Jan. 2.—A South Carolina man who was in Roanoke arranging it is understood, for coal shipments to that state, said that owing to the floods it was impossible to utilize water to generate power, and there being little coal available it was believed there was danger of a suspension on the part of some of the mills in South Carolina. The fuel famine seems to be general, as there are said to be complaints in all directions. It is understood nearly all of the coal-bearing roads have been seriously hampered of late by high water and destructive floods; besides, the Christmas holidays and consequent inability to secure miners has cut off the supply at the fields.

Jimmy Handler Lost.
Waterbury, Conn., Jan. 2.—Before 2,000 people at the boxing exhibition of the National Athletic club, Young Peter Jackson of Baltimore and California defeated Jimmy Handler, the Newark welterweight, in three rounds. Handler acted like a novice in the first round. In the second he improved a trifle, but was clearly outclassed. In the third round Jackson sent the Newark man to the platform with a crash. He struggled to his feet, but Jackson pushed him all over the ring. A left inside hook to the jaw sent Handler to the ropes, which saved him from going down again. He was groping helplessly around the ring when Referee Charles White stopped the fight.

Stolen Jewelry Recovered.
New York, Jan. 2.—Detectives have recovered $30,000 worth of jewelry stolen from Paul G. Thebaud. Some of it was found in a pawnshop in this city and the rest in a satchel. Kern, the valet, left the jewelry with the pawnbroker and was to have received a loan of $1,500. He received $700 and was to have returned for $800 and the ticket. He did not come back. The police have Mrs. Poillon, wife of a waiter, in custody. She is a native of Switzerland and was friendly with Kern. When arrested she had two satchels containing some of Kern's clothing and some of the Thebaud jewelry. She denies knowledge of the crime previous to its having been committed. She said that she and Kern had planned to go to Switzerland to live there. She declares she does not know what has become of Kern.

Maryland Legislature.
Annapolis, Jan. 2.—The general assembly of Maryland has begun its deliberations. Noble L. Mitchell of Harford county was elected speaker of the house and Senator John Hubner of Baltimore county was re-elected president of the senate. All officers of last season were re-elected in both houses. The fact that notices of contests in the cases of six Republicans in the house and one in the senate were presented indicates the Democrats desire a more comfortable working majority both on joint ballot and in the house than they now have. The coming election of a United States senator created but little comment, as it is almost universally believed that former Senator Gorman will have no difficulty in securing the prize when the balloting begins.

Tragedy at Watch Party.
Augusta, Ga., Jan. 2.—Three people were killed and two wounded at Robbers, N. C., in a fight which occurred during a "watch party" given at the residence of Jesse Griffin. The participants in the fight were white people and well known in this part of the country. The victims are George Dunbar and son Harry and Fletcher Bennett, killed; Mrs. Dunbar and Arthur Dunbar, a son, badly wounded.

Valuable Painting Damaged.
Chicago, Jan. 2.—The "Battle of Scapato Bridge," the painting by Vorstich of the last contest in which General Lawton was engaged, full while being taken from the walls of the Art Institute, where the painting has been on exhibition. A lady who was in the room, Vorstich, said he thought it was impossible to repair the painting. The painting was a valuable one.

The trade of all South America is not equal to that we have with Canada.

PAN-AMERICAN MUSS.

Congress Deadlocked Over the Question of Arbitration.

THE CHILEANS BLOCK PROCEEDINGS.

Palma Ticket Elected in Cuba, the Vote Being Very Light—Natives of Samoa Growing More Hostile—Filipino Force Suppressed—Insular and Foreign Intelligence.

City of Mexico, Jan. 2.—The fate of the Pan-American congress is hanging in the balance, a critical situation developing around the question of compulsory arbitration. The Chilean delegation were closeted with one another, but when seen they declined to give any intimation as to their ultimate action. If they remain firm and refuse to allow the plan of compulsory arbitration to be reported, then either they or several of the other South American delegates must withdraw. The burden of peace-making falls on the Mexicans, as the United States delegates remain neutral. Though the latter will not sign a plan of compulsory arbitration, they have no objection to allowing such a plan to be signed by some of the South American delegates to be reported to the conference as long as the United States goes on record as having nothing to do with it. Still the Americans will not take an active part in proceeding admittance for the compulsory plan.

Palma Ticket Elected.
Havana, Jan. 2.—The indications are that the Palma ticket will be elected and that Tomas Estrada Palma, the Nationalist candidate for the presidency of Cuba, will receive the enormous vote of the electoral college. The adherents of General Bartolome Maso (the Democratic candidate who recently withdrew from the campaign) not only withdrew their candidates, but refused to go to the polls. A remarkably light vote was polled throughout the island. La Discusion describes this indifference to the election on the part of the Palmaists as being victorious, and that consequently the majority of them remained at home and did not vote. La Lucha says that his light vote can be taken as a protest from the Cuban people against the imposition of official candidates. The Diario de la Marina says that the result is an indication that the Cuban Democracy may look upon American policy as inevitable.

Filipino Force Fooled.
Manila, Jan. 2.—Lieutenant Charles D. Rhodes of the Sixth cavalry, accompanied by two ordnance, came within six miles of Manila, where across 20 armed insurgents in a quiet of barracks. The insurgents threatened "Americans!" and Lieutenant Rhodes feigned a retreat. But as they took the guard in flank and drove out the insurgents, capturing two rifles, three revolvers and some ammunition. Rhodes then burned the barracks and proceeded to Manila.

Natives of Samar Hostile.
Manila, Jan. 2.—General Whelan's report from the island of Samar indicates that little has been accomplished there. The attitude of the natives is even more unfriendly than ever before. General Chaffee will probably visit the island in order to investigate the state of affairs prevailing there. On the other hand, in Batangas province, the organized campaign against the native warriors is progressing favorably and speedy results are expected.

Loulet to the Czar.
Paris, Jan. 2.—President Loulet sent the following message to the czar: "I am deeply touched by the good wishes of yourself and by the majority for France. My country preserves a grateful remembrance of the second visit you deigned to make to her and will rejoice to learn that you are still in France. The first stay in France has left in our hearts a deep and lasting impression."

Several promotions are to be made in the Legion of Honor in connection with the China expedition. The nominations will include one commander, four officers, and five knights, and several military medals will also be awarded.

NEW YORK SALOONS

TO BE ALLOWED OPEN ON SUNDAY.

Under New Administration of Seth Low—That is, Violations Will be "Tolerated."

New York, Jan. 2.—The question of open saloons on Sunday confronts the new administration of Mayor Seth Low as it never did any previous one in the city's history. This is the greatest cosmopolitan city in the world and a large majority of its citizens want the same kind of Sunday observance or custom as prevails in continental Europe. Seth Low and many of his supporters recognized this fact so keenly before the recent election that promises had to be made guaranteeing open saloons on Sunday afternoon. But for this promise Seth Low would not have been elected. Leading ministers who were Low's conspicuous supporters recognize this fact. Among these ministers are such well known men as Dr. Parkhurst, Bishop Potter and Dr. Rainford.

But Mayor Low and these supporters find the old State laws on the subject to be quite radical, requiring saloons to be closed tight on Sunday and they are in a predicament. The first expedient was to get a modification of the laws by the Legislature at Albany this winter and efforts have been made in that direction. But the up-to-date sentiment is strongly against any change in the old laws, and this is the condition that is just now making the dilemma for the Low administration all the more troublesome.

So, being unable to obtain a change in the law, it is announced that Mayor Low will simply ignore it in those parts which he asked should be modified. His policy he initially named that of "toleration." Direct violations of the law will be "tolerated." The saloons may be open Sunday afternoons and after hours other days if they are orderly.

A hundred prominent ministers, all supporters of Seth Low, held a meeting and took strong grounds in favor of open saloons on Sunday afternoon. Some of them have been seen in their efforts to demonstrate the prohibition is as "hypocritical." Such ministers as could be secured and were not in the city, but it shows the extent of the support for Seth Low in the matter.

A pearl fisher of West Australia has found a pearl not to be carried through, not a single one of the conference of a couple of years ago.

WOODMEN

Listened to a Fine Program and Enjoyed Themselves on New Year's Night.

Cedar Camp, Modern Woodmen of America, held an open meeting Wednesday night, at which about 200 Woodmen and their friends came together for social entertainment. All had a fine time. Included in the program were recitations by Dr. Barnes, Fred Mikesell, Mr. Hamilton, Rees R. Jones, Chas. Hafer, John Lambert, and an address of welcome by Rev. Mr. Higginbotham. Splendid music was rendered by Prof. Bailey, and a song by Mr. Downey captured the audience. Col. W. C. Seward acted as master of ceremonies. Refreshments were served.

JUMPED THE TRACK.

Locomotive Buried Beneath Its Train of Passenger Cars.

WRECKAGE TAKES FIRE AND BURNS

Twenty Persons Caught, Two Being Killed and the Remainder Injured, Five Seriously—Race Horses Crushed in Disastrous Collision in the South. Mishaps on the Rail.

Pittsburg, Jan. 2.—Two men are dead and 17 injured, five seriously, as the result of a through passenger train on the Baltimore and Ohio road leaving the rails at Graceland, this state. The dead: John Collins, Councilville, Pa., engineer; — McCune, Councilville, fireman. Seriously injured: D. J. Partella, mail clerk, Washington, D. C.; William Avery, a Baltimore and Ohio engineer; C. A. Young, mail clerk, Hagerstown, Md.; G. W. Ryan, Baltimore; R. R. Souser, Napier, Pa. The injured were all taken to Meigsdale for treatment as quickly as the relief train from Cumberland could get them there.

The train which was derailed was the through passenger, which left here for New York. It was a fully equipped train, composed of engine, baggage car, postal car, two coaches, sleeper and Pullman chair car. In going down the steep grade one and a half miles from Graceland the engine from some cause as yet unexplained, jumped the track at the curve, and the entire train piled on top of it. Probably the only thing that prevented a wholesale death list was the fact that the heavy vestibule cars did not break up in going over the embankment. The work to rescue the injured had to be done quickly, because the gas tanks in the cars were exploded and set fire to the wreckage. The flames spread rapidly and in a short time the entire train was burned.

Disastrous Collision.

Keithville, La., Jan. 2.—Two men were lost, one person seriously injured and the race horse George Arnold, for which $20,000 had been paid, was killed in a disastrous collision between Texas Pacific last freight No. 67 and a Houston, East and West Texas freight on a trestle at this place. The dead: W. J. Daniels, Houston, fireman; James Kane, engineer; —, Houston, fireman. Bob Edwards, a negro fireman, both legs broken and severe internal injuries. Twelve cars of the Houston, East and West Texas train were burned to the tracks. The engineer of the Houston, East and West Texas train, who is said to have been New Denton, disappeared immediately after the accident. One car contained four race horses belonging to J. W. Fuller of Willis Point, Tex., which were on route from the winter meeting at New Orleans. George Arnold, the only one killed, won the Christmas handicap, and was valued at New Orleans. The horse was insured for $50,000. The other horses in the car, Queen Victoria, Kate and Free State, were injured and carried to the woods. James Kane, who was killed, was traveling with the horses.

Tragedy and a Wreck.

Kathleen, Mo., Jan. 2.—After a collision between the Missouri Pacific and the Great Northern, the Great Northern train was wrecked and the Missouri Pacific train was derailed. The Great Northern train was carrying a large number of passengers and the Missouri Pacific train was carrying a large number of freight cars. The collision occurred at a curve in the track and the Great Northern train was thrown over the embankment. The Missouri Pacific train was derailed and the freight cars were scattered over a large area. The passengers of the Great Northern train were rescued and the freight cars of the Missouri Pacific train were salvaged. The collision caused a large amount of property damage and the loss of several lives.

FOUND GUILTY

Of First Degree Murder in Fifteen Minutes—Orlando Lester, a Negro, Must Die.

Oxford, Miss., Jan. 2.—Orlando Lester, the negro on trial here charged with being an accomplice in the murder of the two Montgomerys, was found guilty of murder in the first degree. The jury was out 15 minutes. The negro testified that he held a lamp while Will Mathis shot Hugh Montgomery with a shotgun. Lester stated that Will Mathis sent him for the guns and that Will Owens had loaded the shotgun with buck-shot and told him to be sure to kill both officers. Lester also stated that since he had been confined in the Oxford jail he had received a note from Will Mathis saying that if Lester would admit doing the shooting and take all the blame, Will Mathis knew he would be released and he would then get together a mob and set Lester free before he could be hanged.

French Industrial School.
Chicago, Jan. 2.—One million dollars is the sum offered by Robert Lebaudy, a French multimillionaire, for the establishment of a French industrial school in connection with Chicago university. It will be the greatest institution of its kind in the world. The tender was made to President Harper through M. Lebaudy's agent, Emil Ridel of the French army. Dr. Harper promptly replied it was the very thing the university desired, and the preliminaries were settled at once.

For Governor of Arkansas.
Little Rock, Jan. 2.—Hon. E. W. Rogers of Hot Springs announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for governor in opposition to Governor Jeff Davis, who is seeking a second term. ### Tommy White's Hard Luck.

St. Louis, Jan. 2.—Joe Bernstein of New York was awarded the election over Tommy White of Chicago by a force of 11 rounds of fighting before the West End Club. The decision was in the opinion of many at the time it was an easy one to the Chicago boy. White had fought repeatedly with left jab, throughout the fight. In the early rounds Bernstein attempted to injure White's right arm, but White's right arm was not injured. In every round White landed repeatedly with his left jab, and for about 10 rounds he was in a rough matter. During the fight White fought at 175 lbs.

SHOCK

CAUSED BY THE ACTION OF EVERETT & MOORE

THE SYNDICATE'S INABILITY TO REALIZE

ON SOME OF THE SECURITIES

To Carry on New Projects Causes Move Said to be Practical Liquidation.

Cleveland, Jan. 2.—By consent of Everett & Moore, the affairs of their syndicate have been placed in the hands of a committee of bankers to have absolute control. It is virtually going into liquidation. Financial circles are torn up by the sensation. The cause was inability to realize as they expected on securities which they wished use in securing funds with which to carry on their many new projects. The committee has asked other creditors to co-operate in granting an extension of 18 months. This doubtless will be done.

Business Situation in Germany.

Berlin, Jan. 2.—President Koch of the Reichsbank is of the opinion that the business situation in Germany has really taken a turn for the better, and believes the new year opens with somewhat better prospects. In an interview he says: "The worst appears to be past. This is not merely my personal impression. The statement is based on reports I have received from the various parts of Germany where an improvement of the situation has begun. I must admit that coal and iron do not show improvement. In Silesia, the Rhineland and Westphalia it appears that business can not improve. The overproduction has been doubtless too great."

Michigan Invincible.

Pasadena, Cal., Jan. 2.—By the decisive score of 49 to 0 the Michigan university football team defeated Stanford university. Michigan's superior knowledge of the game showed in every play. At kicking, general team work, running, tackling and blocking the line the Michigan men excelled. Perhaps the strongest feature of their playing was the phenomenal punting of Sweetley, Michigan's right end. In every exchange of punts Stanford lost ground which they could not gain. In the first half, however, Stanford showed well the first 20 minutes.

Army Officer Found Dead.

Beven was 49 years old and served in Philippines.

LICKING COUNTY MAN NOW FROM LUCAS COUNTY

Leaves the Hanna Fold to Take Sides With the Foraker Faction at Columbus.

It is a cold day when Licking county goes left, in troubles of any kind, or matters of any importance. Especially this is true in anything of a political nature, as is verified in the present war to the knife fight between the Hanna and Foraker factions in Ohio for the organization of the Legislature.

The Hanna faction has all along been counting positively on the solid support of Lucas county, consisting of 10 representatives. The Hanna faction has all along been counting positively on the solid support of Lucas county, consisting of 10 representatives.

CUBA'S FIRST ELECTION.

The first Cuban presidential election took place Tuesday, and without the returns, which will be delayed for some days, it is safe to assume that Mr. Palma will be chosen president by the electors, who will meet February 24 and vote directly for president and vice president.

At Tuesday's election not only were presidential electors chosen, but members of the house of representatives, governors of the various states and members of the provincial councils, or, as we would say, state legislatures. The Cuban senate will be composed of four Senators from each of the six provinces, chosen in a different way from that in force in this country in electing Federal senators. Senatorial electors are chosen in Cuba as well as presidential electors. They will meet in their provincial capitals, with the provincial councilmen or legislatures, on February 24, and elect four senators from each province.

Therefore by February 24, or soon thereafter, the Cuban people will have their republic in full operation, with president, vice president, senate and house of representatives and judicial officers. The result of the election of president will be certified to the military governor of Cuba, who will communicate it to the Cuban congress. The term of the president of Cuba is four years, and the constitution prohibits him from holding the office for three consecutive terms. The vice president of Cuba is president of the senate, and in case of temporary or permanent absence of the president of the republic, the vice president shall substitute him in the exercise of the executive power. Should the absence be permanent, the substitution shall continue until the end of the presidential term.

Cuba in a brief time will take its place as an independent and self-governing sovereignty among the nations of the world. The United States will have redeemed its faith in driving the Spanish power from the island. In this connection no one can avoid the reflection that if we had pursued the same course in the Philippines as in Cuba those islands would have been ready for independence and self-government, the state of war existing would never have been commenced, and peace and prosperity would have been supreme.

GERMAN DEBTS OF VENEZUELA.

(Pittsburg Post.)
As the Germans propose to collect their Venezuelan debts by force of arms, it is interesting to note how these far distant obligations in a bankrupt country were incurred. The trouble grows out of the financing of a railroad by German capitalists and built by German contractors, not the government, from Caracas to Valencia, a distance of 110 miles. It became a most expensive bit of railroad construction and financing. The debt is admitted, and although the country was plundered, it was under the forms of law, and Venezuela will have to pay. The road cost $145,000 a mile, figuring up nearly $16,000,000. It was then managed at a cost of $6,500 a mile, or $700,000 per annum, and Venezuela was called on to pay the bond interest as all the receipts had been absorbed. The German financiers were two banks under a concession by which the Venezuelan government guaranteed 7 per cent interest. In 1895, these banks loaned Venezuela $10,000,000. It is alleged that the banks by various horse-potus processes got this loan, and Venezuela merely the shell of the oyster. The actual cost of the road fell far below the obligations incurred.

There appears to be no doubt that Venezuela was "done up" in a debt of many millions, but under the manipulation of acute financiers in a legal way. The equities of the German claims are preposterous. But the robberies were under the form of law. When the whole matter comes to be looked into by impartial judges, the war menace of Germany appears to be nothing less than an effort to collect a big sum, partially fraudulent, at the cannon's mouth. Out of this Germany persists in her hostile purposes against the South American state, it is easy to see complications may arise in the United States. Venezuela has not the good opinion of the world, but when it comes to landing German troops on American soil to enforce a fraudulent claim, it will be very apt to arouse an intense feeling in this country. Germany is proceeding very cautiously, and with evident purpose to avoid friction with the United States, but there is no telling what may happen when the South American side of the financial and war conflict impresses itself on the American people. We are naturally sensitive as to European force applied to American states. That is the basis of the Monroe doctrine.

ZEB WHITE'S MISHAP

HE TELLS HOW UNEXPECTED MISFORTUNE OVERTOOK HIM.

The Old Possum Hunter of Tennessee Failed to Heed the Advice of His Good Wife to Keep Holy the Sabbath Day and Suffered For It.

(Copyright, 1901, by C. B. Lawrence.)

"I DON'T reckon I was any wuss than other men," said the old possum hunter of Tennessee as he settled down to tell an evening tale, "but somehow or other it alius seemed as if Sunday was the best day to go huntin'. My wife objected from the day we was married, but I didn't give it up. I wasn't defiant of the Lawd or anything of that sort, but I couldn't see no harm in gwine out of a Sunday and poppin' over a bar or bringin' home a couple of coonskins. This had been gwine on a long, long time when Elder Davis called at my cabin one Saturday to say that he was gwine to preach at Carter's Crossroads next day. The elder was a powerful good man and I liked him, but I couldn't give up my Sunday huntin' to hear him preach. He jest said that Sunday was the Lawd's day and should be kept holy and that I wasn't doin' the right thing to slish around with a gun on my shoulder. It was arter he was gone that the old woman turned to me and said:

"Zeb, yo'll put on a clean shirt in the mornin' and go with me to hear the preachin'."

"I'd like to mighty well," says I, "but I've located seven coons in a big tree and hev got to git their hides to-morrow."

"Is yo'r soul wuth more than seven coons?" she asks.

"Reckon 'tis, but what's my soul got to do with it?"

"Yo' are gwine to lose it if yo' don't stop this Sunday slishin'. Hear me, Zeb White. If yo' don't go to church with me to-morrow a judgment will fall upon yo' as suah's yo'r bo'n."

"I sorter thought I'd go, and I sorter thought I wouldn't, and I was at a standstill till the old woman got her bonnet on. Then I suddenly made up my mind to go arter the coons and let her go to the preachin' alone. She looks at me fur a minit or two with pity in her eyes, and then says:

"All right, Zeb White. Go along arter yo'r coons, but beware of that judgment!"

"I felt sorter wean and also sorter scart, but when she had gone I cleaned my rifle and made ready fur a start."

FISH AS FOOD.

The Best Kind to Eat and the Way to Cook Them.

Fish constitutes one of the most valuable articles of diet for mankind, although the popular notion that it is a good brain food because of the phosphorus it contains is incorrect. As a matter of fact fish meat in general contains less phosphorus than most kinds of flesh meat. But it is good for the brain indirectly, for it is less stimulating than flesh meat, is usually digested more easily and causes the production in the system of fewer of the waste products which, if not at once eliminated, act injuriously upon the delicate nervous system.

The last mentioned property is one which renders fish of especial value in the diet of persons suffering from Bright's disease and other affections of the kidneys, from rheumatism, gout, and all those diseases which many physicians regard as the result of excessive formation or retention of uric acid. For convalescents also it is most useful, as it supplies a fair amount of nutritive material in palatable form, with a minimum of tax on the digestive organs.

Among the most nourishing and at the same time digestible fish are bluefish, shad, red snapper, fresh codfish, whitefish, striped bass, halibut and flounders. And equally nutritious, although perhaps less digestible, are brook trout, lake trout, salmon, mackerel and eels. Roe is not particularly nutritious, but it is agreeable to the taste and fairly digestible.

The mode of preparation has much to do with the digestibility of fish, as it has with that of all other foods. Boiling and broiling are better modes of cooking than frying.

The chief objection to fish is its proneness to decomposition, even when kept on ice. It may be free from any taste or odor, and yet it may have undergone changes which make it poisonous. Some fish are poisonous in themselves, containing in the natural state some substance which will cause alarming symptoms, or even death, if eaten. With some persons fish in any form does not agree, causing digestive disorders or skin eruptions. This is notably true of lobsters and crabs—Youth's Companion.

His Idea of Heaven.

The lad was about five years of age and naturally inquisitive. He asked his father questions he had never heard before, and the fond parent was a perplexed man.

The youngster got on the subject of the next world one day and wanted to know a lot of things. "Will you wear a mustache in heaven, papa?" he asked.

"I suppose I will, my son," replied the father.

"You'll make a funny angel."

There was a long pause, and finally the boy asked what kind of a place heaven was. The father in order to satisfy his son went into lengthy details in describing his heaven.

The lad listened with open mouth and finally said, "Why, papa, heaven must look like the tea can store!"—Pittsburg Press.

The Caddie's Eyesight.

"Good eyesight is necessary for a caddie, isn't it?" asked the boy of no experience.

"Oh, I don't know," answered the experienced lad. "There's some caddies in this club that'll pay you more for looking the other way an' not seeing anything than they will for findin' the balls. You've got to learn when to have the eyesight an' when not to have it."—Chicago Post.

A Model Child.

Tickle-Pa, were you a gooder boy'n me when you were as little as me? Father—Yes, indeed, Tickle. I was always a very good boy, but somehow or other I had a great many serious and painful misunderstandings with my parents.—Detroit Free Press.

Who Finished The Game?

[Original.]

There is a dispute about a certain feature of the Yale-Harvard football game back in 1890—that is no nearer a settlement than it was an hour after the game was finished. All the men who were engaged in it have left college long ago, but the matter has been handed down to the undergraduates and serves for a subject of perpetual wrangling. The trouble was that in those days they played the game too late in the day, and before it could be finished it was so dark one could scarcely distinguish one side from the other.

The dispute in question could not have arisen except for this cause. The game was played on Thanksgiving day, very nearly the shortest in the year. This particular Thanksgiving was cloudy; consequently the darkness came on earlier than usual.

The way of it was this: Bannard was the center rush for Yale, and it wasn't known till the game began that he was suffering from some heart complication, probably brought on at practice the day before, when he suddenly fainted after a hard scrimmage. His doctor forbade his going into the Thanksgiving game, but he was loyal to his college, and he knew it would lose without him. At any rate, there was a consultation on Thanksgiving eve, and when the boys appeared from behind locked doors it was announced that there had been a mistake about Bannard's heart trouble and he would take his place in the team next day.

Everything went straight enough till near the end of the first half. Bannard shouldered the principal work, as he had always done, and Yale had scored more points than Harvard, but toward the end of the half Bannard began to look queer and let Sampson of Harvard right past him with the ball, thereby losing a touchdown. Sampson kicked the goal and tied the game. After the next lineup Bannard during a scrimmage fell over in a faint, and that let Harvard in for another touchdown and a goal. Bannard was carried off the field.

Well, it began to get dark, but was not so dark when the men lined up again but that I could see Bannard in position. But somehow he looked taller than usual, and there was a peculiar motion about him that I had never noticed before. After a half hour of the second half all one could see of the players was a lot of dark figures on a dark ground. Bannard's tall frame loomed up above the rest like the specter of the Broken. Great guns, how he did play! He was at the front, at the flank, in every scrimmage. In short, he was carrying the game far better than he had ever done before. Then came that celebrated run in which he dodged six men and, unguarded, carried the ball over the line twenty yards in front of his nearest follower for a touchdown. I watched to see him kick his goal, and what was my surprise to see another man do it for him. I asked what it meant and was told that he had gone under again.

The game now was tied. When the men lined up again, I watched for Bannard. Sure enough, he was there, and after the kickoff did the same astonishing work as before. He scored two touchdowns, but by this time it was so dark that I could not see who kicked them. However, they both failed, on account of the darkness, I suppose, leaving Yale ahead in the game. Before any more points could be scored Bannard suddenly disappeared from the field, and a substitute appeared in his place, a slow, bungling fellow, who lost for his college enough points to put Harvard again even with Yale.

There remained but five minutes of the three-quarters of an hour allowed for the half. At the kickoff Bannard, who was in his place, jumped fully ten feet, caught the ball and ran with it straight through the Harvard lines. It has been said that no human being could have got through that line as it was placed. Every gap was closed. One Harvard man swears that Bannard passed him and as he seized the giant around the waist he seized air. Another declares that the man wasn't Bannard at all, though he was enough like him to deceive his own mother. Do this as it may, the game was won for Yale. I wanted to see Bannard for goal, but waited in vain. Some old told me that it was so dark he couldn't see the posts and that the game was won anyway for Yale. There was a hubbub among the players of both sides, who were huddled in two groups near the center of the field. One of them, a Harvard man, shouted "Foul!" and I saw the Yale captain go to him and shake his fist in his face, but I could not hear what he said for the commotion.

What do you suppose I saw in the death notices of the newspapers the next day? "Well, on Thursday, the 29th of November, Archibald J. Bannard, in the twenty-first year of his age."

At what time a day did he die? No one knows; at least no one will tell though it is generally conceded that when he was carried off the field at the end of the first half he never ran it again. If so, who was in his place? One report said that it was a family member—the black sheep of the family, never spoken of who he was, I just before the game, and it was reported beforehand that if Archie Bannard broke down the brother should be his place. This is the explanation of some Harvard men, but I have never seen one of their team except at a sort of fellow who does not seem to have died at the end of the first half and his death was not a secret. He wouldn't go off to the other world without saying his piece.

Anyway that's a lot of howl at Yale. ROGER T. HOWELL.

Men Happier Than Women

By Mme. SARAH GRAND

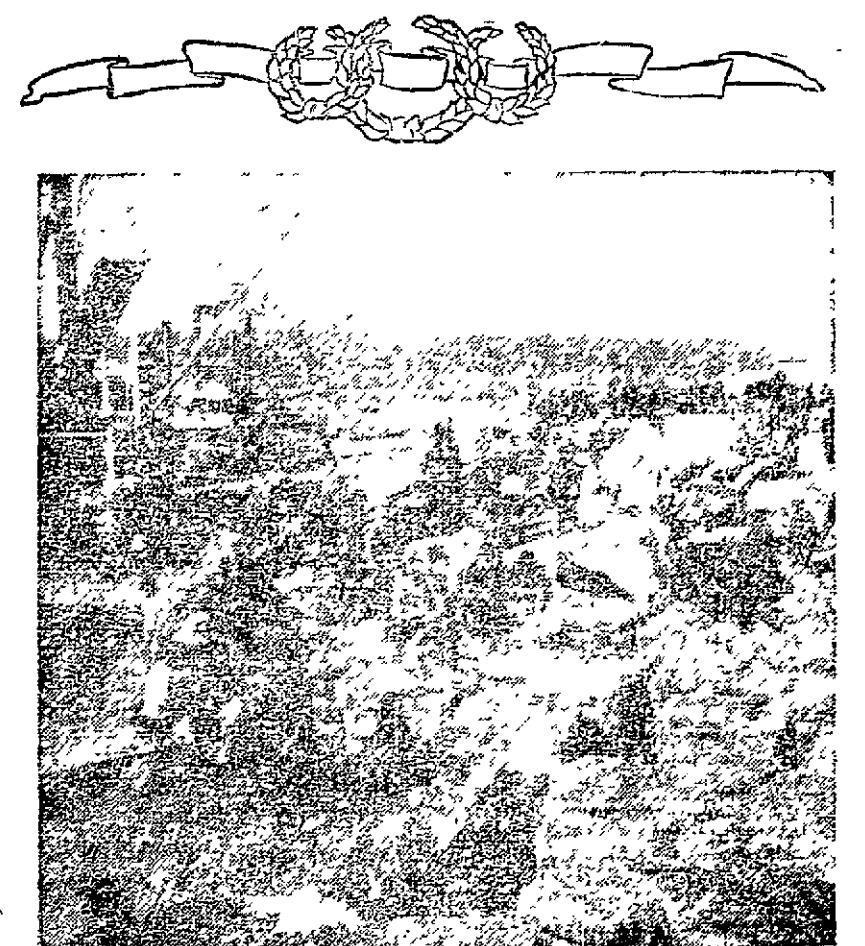

MAN, AS A RULE, IS HAPPIER THAN WOMAN. HE UNDERSTANDS BETTER HOW TO ENJOY LIFE AND IS LESS GIVEN TO THE HABIT OF WORRYING. It is a mistake to think that the women have any sort of a monopoly of this world's happiness.

In the average normal human being the chances of being happy far outweigh the chances of being unhappy. The great pleasures, it is true, are rare, but there are many minor happinesses that in the aggregate make up a pleasant life.

No one, no matter how cynical he may be, can be absolutely unhappy. Even if he chooses to be miserable he is happy in the exercise of that choice. The greatest reason for unhappiness lies in the indifference to the happiness of others. Every one possesses the power to be disagreeable, but the ability to charm cannot be put on and off like a garment.

PEOPLE WHO WOULD BE HAPPY SHOULD CULTIVATE REGULAR HABITS OF WORK AND PLAY. RESTLESSNESS IS A GREAT CAUSE OF MISERY. SOME WOMEN TRY TO RID THEMSELVES OF THIS UNPLEASANT AFFLICTION BY PLUNGING INTO POLITICS; OTHERS RELY UPON CIGARETTES. WORK AND CARE FOR THE HAPPINESS OF OTHERS ARE THE ONLY REAL WAY OUT OF THE DIFFICULTY.

Happiness is very much a matter of discipline. It may be likened to a fragrant flower that only blooms under careful cultivation.

COTTON READY FOR SHIPMENT AT A MISSISSIPPI LEVEE LANDING.

Although the last of the cotton crop of 1901 was gathered weeks ago, the bales are still flowing down the Mississippi to New Orleans. Here is a typical levee scene showing a steamboat landing. The heaped up cotton bales have been carted in from neighboring plantations and will soon be stowed away on board a steamer for the down river journey.

Why He Hesitated.

The Brooklyn Citizen prints an experience of a man who traveled all over Europe and declares that he did not meet but one person who hesitated over the acceptance of a free.

I was wandering through an old graveyard in an English town and had stopped before a stone which had been long in place. A man who must have been following me stepped up and said:

"Ah, sir, but she who lies here will be missed for years to come! I was for half a lifetime the president of the charity board."

In an abashed way I handed him a shilling, said the traveler. He received it, turned it over in his hand in a hesitating way and finally stammered:

"As she was my own wife, sir, and as I was here to plant flowers on her grave, perhaps it would not be exactly proper to accept a free."

I replied that but for him I might never have known about her being president of the board, and he would have his shillings and pocketed the shilling with one motion and with evident satisfaction.

Office and Man.

Once upon a time a postmaster who lived in a Kansas town was seated in his office reading postcards when a native of Kansas came in with a letter. The wind carried him a card from a window and the postmaster, who was not a very good reader, took it and read it.

In a few seconds he was sitting in the top of a tree, looking down at the man who had just come in, and saying to himself: "What a queer fellow!"

"I don't know," answered the experienced lad. "There's some caddies in this club that'll pay you more for looking the other way an' not seeing anything than they will for findin' the balls. You've got to learn when to have the eyesight an' when not to have it."—Chicago Post.

One of the Trifles.

It was a case of how a thing happened. A man was in a house when a fire broke out. He was in a room with a window open, and he saw a man running out of the window. He called out to him, but he did not hear him. He then saw a man running out of the window, and he called out to him, but he did not hear him.

Origin of Absinth.

Absinth, the green liquid that saturates fashionable France, was originally an extremely harmless medicinal remedy.

It was a French physician who first used it. His name was Ordinaire, and he was living as a refugee at Convent in Switzerland, at the close of the eighteenth century. Like many other country doctors at that time, he was also a druggist, and his favorite remedy was a compound of absinth of which he alone had the secret.

At his death he bequeathed the formula to his housekeeper, Mlle. Grandpierre, and she sold it to the daughters of a French doctor. They carried it to the United States, and after they had discovered a certain quantity of the liquid they sold it on commission to a street peddler, who quickly disposed of it in the adjacent towns and villages.

Finally, during the first decade of the nineteenth century, a wealthy and well-known doctor, who was very soon known as the peddler of the market, the modern absinth, which differs greatly from the old one, and the latter is now almost entirely unknown.

FROM BOSTON IS COMING TO NEWARK.

Rev. C. L. Everts Will Begin Special Meetings at Baptist Church on Sunday, Jan. 5.

Evangelist C. L. Everts of Boston, Mass., will begin special meetings at the Baptist church, Sunday morning, January 5. Mr. Everts is a new man in this state, and comes highly recommended as a successful Christian worker.

For the past fifteen years his labors have been confined to the Eastern and Southern States, where his work has been signally blessed of God in reaching men. Preparations have been made for the opening meeting on next Sabbath.

Mr. Everts recently held a meeting in Zanesville, and during his visit the State Y. M. C. A. workers held a rally day in the interest of the association and so delighted were they with Mr. Evert's ability to successfully handle a mass meeting of over 900 men, that his services have been secured for a rally day in Newark, January 12.

In order that as large results as possible may be obtained for the religious interests of men in Newark, three special meetings for men only, have been appointed for each Sabbath afternoon during Mr. Evert's stay in the city.

In these meetings on the first and third Sabbaths at 3:30 p. m. Secretary Percy of the Newark Y. M. C. A., with his singers and workers, will cooperate in the services at the Baptist church while on the second Sabbath, January 12, the church will join in the Rally Day services and in the mass meeting at Taylor Hall at 3:30 p. m.

A good deal of interest is awakened in the meeting of the first Sabbath, and it is hoped that a hearty welcome may be given Mr. Everts by the Christian workers of Newark.

DOES NOT DISAPPOINT.

The New Discovery for Catarrh Seems to Possess Remarkable Merit.

A new catarrh cure has recently appeared which so far as tested has been remarkably successful in curing all forms of catarrh, whether in the head, throat, bronchial tubes, or in stomach and liver.

The remedy is in tablet form, pleasant, and convenient to take and no special secrecy is maintained as to what it contains, the tablet being a scientific combination of Blood root, Red gum and similar valuable and harmless antiseptics.

The safe and effective catarrh cure may be found at any drug store under the name of Stuart's Catarrh Tablets.

Whether the catarrh is located in the nose, throat, bronchial tubes, or stomach, the tablets seem to act with equal success, removing the stuffy feeling in head and nose clearing the mucous membrane of throat and trachea from catarrhal secretions, which cause the tickling, coughing, hawking and gagging so annoying to every catarrh sufferer.

Nasal catarrh generally leads to ulceration, in some cases to such an extent as to destroy the nose entirely and in many old cases of catarrh the bones of the head become diseased. Nasal catarrh gradually extends to the throat and bronchial tubes and very often the stomach, causing that very obstinate trouble, catarrh of the stomach.

Catarrh is a systemic poison, inherent in the blood, and local washes, douches, salves, inhalers and sprays can have no effect on the real cause of the disease. An internal remedy which acts upon the blood is the only rational treatment and Stuart's Catarrh Tablets is the safest of all internal remedies, as well as the most convenient and satisfactory from a medical standpoint.

Dr. Eaton recently stated that he had successfully used Stuart's Catarrh Tablets in old chronic cases, even where ulceration had extended so far as to destroy the septum of the nose. He says, "I am pleasantly surprised almost every day by the excellent results from Stuart's Catarrh Tablets. It is remarkable how effectively they remove the excessive secretion and bring about a healthy condition of the mucous membranes of the nose throat and stomach."

All druggists sell complete treatment of the Tablets at 50 cents and a little book giving the symptoms and causes of the various forms of catarrh will be mailed free by addressing F. A. Stuart Co., Marshall, Mich.

A Woman's Awful Peril.

"There is only one chance to save your life and that is through an operation," were the startling words heard by Mrs. I. B. Hunt of Lime Ridge, Wis., from her doctor after he had vainly tried to cure her of a frightful case of stomach trouble and yellow jaundice. Gall stones had formed and she constantly grew worse.
Then she began to use Electric Bitters which wholly cured her. It's a wonderful Stomach, Liver and Kidney remedy. Cures Dyspepsia, Loss of Appetite. Try it. Only 50c. Guaranteed. For sale at Hall's drug store, 12

Took No Chance.

Dr. Blistar, a
St. Louis physician, has been swindled so much
by ungrateful patients that he now demands his fee in advance. Adoubtful paying patient said to him:

"I have a pain in my stomach every morning. Do you think, doctor, it amounts to anything?"

"Yes, $2," replied the doctor, holding out his hand for his fee.

"What brought you here, my good man?"

"Good books, ma'am.
Good books."

"Good books! Why,
I don't understand."

"Well, per sec-
ma'am, the good books were worth over $5,
and they pinched me
for grand larceny."

OFFERING OF A FLOOD

[Original.]

John Oldershaw and his wife, Margaret, lived on the bank of the Mississippi river. They had everything they desired except children. Margaret after waiting years for the advent of a little one fell into one of those perversions of the maternal instinct, the lavishing of her affection on a dumb brute.

She adopted a puppy which she named Spot. It grew up to be an ugly little beast, and John hated it. Margaret gave it a crib to sleep in, the choicest food, a bath daily, and when John was not present even brushed its teeth.

"What do you want to make a child of a dog for?" John would ask snap-pishly.

"I love Spotty dearly," Margaret would reply.

One morning John overheard his wife talking to the dog: "Spotty, dear, I want you to go and bring me a baby.
You'll find it somewhere—in the wood perhaps. It will be in a silk handkerchief, tied at the corners. There will be a bit of paper pinned to the handkerchief, giving the baby's name and telling why its mother left it in the wood, poor woman!"

"That's a likely thing to happen," muttered John.

Like the handkerchief in your teeth," Margaret went on, "where the four corners are tied together and bring the child to me."

John went to Memphis to a foundling asylum and applied for a baby to adopt. There was none to be had whose parentage satisfied him, for he was somewhat particular in that respect, so he went back to Margaret disappointed and empty handed, and Margaret went on making a child of Spotty.

Soon after this John was reading in the local newspaper a telegraphic dispatch stating that the river was rising rapidly above and fears were entertained that the levee at several weak points would not stand the pressure.
His house stood on ground above the highest flood mark, so he did not fear for his and Margaret's safety, but he dreaded the flood for his neighbors' sake and the destruction of his own and their property.

"John," said his wife, "last night I dreamed that Spotty had gone away and come back with a baby tied up in a silk handkerchief."

John groaned.

"Spotty! Spotty! Come, get your breakfast!" she called.

Spot didn't respond, and Margaret went out into the yard to look for him.
She called, but without reply. She hunted among the rosebushes and under the magnolia trees, in the barn, the woodhouse, everywhere, but there was no Spot. Then she set all the negroes hunting, but when the sun went down that night there was no sign of the child-dog.

The flood proved the highest ever known. The levee burst above the Oldershaws', and the country was covered with water. Margaret wrung her hands and gave up Spot for drowned and pleaded with John to take a boat and go in search of his body. John refused until he saw that his refusal was downright cruelty. Then he got out the oars, unchained the boat and after taking his wife in with him pulled away into the wood behind the house.

John Oldershaw felt like a fool, but he is not the first husband who has acted stupidly and wisely at the same time in pleasing his wife.

They were met by everything that could float, animate and inanimate.
Furniture, dwellings, sections of fencing, barns, were floating about in profusion. A wee kitten on a board mewed to them piteously. A lamb on the roof of an outhouse bleated. Half dressed people who had escaped in boats at midnight were pulling for dry land. John Oldershaw saw the wreck about him and remembered that he was looking for a drowned dog.

"See the little ark?" Margaret exclaimed.

Whoever has not seen one of those old cradles, now obsolete—as all cradles are, for the matter of that—made of wood, one end covered with the same material, cannot understand the exclamation. What Margaret saw was one of these cradles, and what was more wonderful to relate, she heard a bark, and a dog's nose protruded above the gunwale of the cradle-boat about where the slits for handles were.

"It's Spotty!" cried Margaret in ecstasy.

"So it is," said John.

"Why doesn't he put his paws on the side and show himself?" said Margaret.

"He's afraid of upsetting his boat,"
said John.

John pulled for the cradle and was soon alongside of it. Margaret seized the tiny craft and there, lying on soft bedding, was an infant. When it saw Margaret looking down at it, the child's face broke into a smile. Its eyes laughed, and its little arms and legs vibrated like shuttles.

Spotty sat and barked and when all fear of overturning the cradle was at an end jumped into the boat, kissed Margaret and in all respects equaled the incessant motion of the baby.

So few people will believe this story that I scarcely have the heart to finish it, but the rest of it is of more importance than what I have told. The baby, a boy, was adopted and reared by John and Margaret Oldershaw, and not till he was grown did he discover that he was the son of a rich planter not far up the river, both of his parents having been drowned when he was swept away by the flood.

John after the advent of the little stranger treated Spotty with especial kindness, though Margaret, strangely enough, never afterward considered him anything but a dog.

MME. EMMA CALVE AND HER FAMOUS COLLIE.

This is the dog which has caused Mme. Calve so much trouble during her present season. Hotel proprietors have raised objections to the presence of the collie in the prima donna's rooms, but in most cases they have come out second best. Mme. Calve is now singing in New York, having recovered from her indisposition.

PHILIPPINES

Essential to Uncle Sam's Commercial Development, Says Wheeler.

Louisville, Jan. 2.—General Joseph Wheeler, who lectured here, said in an interview: "I have differed with some of my people on the question of our new possessions, but I am convinced that the retention of the Philippines, Guam and Hawaii are absolutely essential to our commercial development. This country, during the past year, was the greatest producer of articles, including cotton, steel, petroleum and wheat. Our population forms 5 per cent of the world's people in the great accident half of the world's population live. They are great producers. They produce what we need and they in turn want what we produce. My contention, then, is that the possession of Hawaii, Guam and the Philippines give to the United States an indispensable advantage in the struggle for commercial power in the East."

Year's Failures.

liabilities. These figures compare very favorably with 1900, 10,413 failures in 1900 with liabilities of $71,112,235, of which 49 were banks for $15,617,
100. Manufacturing failures in 1901 numbered 2,441 with an indebtedness of $44,000,000, compared with 1,929 in

BEN FRANKLIN'S PURCHASE

An Old Electrical Machine Dating Back to the Revolution.

Nearly every schoolboy of a generation ago was familiar with the frictional electricity machine, never of very much practical value, but of great interest to youthful minds on account of the spark that could be made to pass from condenser to youthful finger. Nowadays the size of the spark has increased as the size of the machine has diminished, but an example of the earlier type is still preserved at the Jefferson physical laboratory at Harvard, where an interesting collection of antiquated pieces of apparatus gives the visitor to Cambridge an opportunity to compare the earliest with the latest methods of studying physics and astronomy.

This special piece, moreover, is particularly interesting in that it was originally purchased for the college by Benjamin Franklin when acting as American commissioner to France during the Revolutionary war. It is a cumbersome affair that would require a horse and a small wagon or a whole automobile to move, but the principle on which it is based is the same as in its modern successors. Aside from size the most noticeable difference is in the use of a glass globe about a foot in diameter to produce the electricity by friction instead of the big circular glass plate seen in later machines.

Despite its size and the big globe, however, which is supported on posts resembling those of a colonial four poster bed, the old machine never exceeded a spark two inches long and was even proud of that modest performance. How modest it really was may be seen by comparison with a modern machine in the next case, so much smaller than Franklin's that it can be held in one hand, that produces a spark of electricity of nearly seven inches.

Meanings of Words and Children.

One of my children was reading to me in her English history how the mayor killed Wat Tyler. "I suppose it killed him," she remarked. "I explained that the mayor was a man. 'Oh,' she said, 'I thought a mare was an old gray horse!'"

My mother told me that the word "sundry," which she heard in church in the exhortation, puzzled her much till she decided in her own mind it referred to the hot, arid land of Palestine, where the Bible was written—a sun dry place.—Good Words.

WATCH PARTY.

A very pleasant "watch party" was given Tuesday night at A. H. Seilers', and the fifty guests had a most enjoyable time while "watching the old year out and the new year in."

Promptly at 12 o'clock the grand march started with Mr. and Mrs. Seiler leading, and it was indeed a beautiful sight. A guest said: "We all had good times, and Mr. Scheidler made the rhymes."

MISTREATED.

Neuralgia is a Very Much Mistreated Complaint—It's an All Nerve Trouble Curable by the Great Nerve Medicine Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills—It's Newark Evidence That Proves.

The remarkable number of neuralgia cures in Newark by Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills has removed all question of doubt as to the efficacy of this medicine in curing neuralgia. Trend of the testimony is to effectual cure, that is the difference from other preparations that only render temporary relief.

Mrs. E. D. Everts of No. 31 West Harrison street, Newark, Ohio, says: "Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills acted wonderfully well with me. Owing to neuralgia I was all broken down, very nervous and having had attacks of nervous sick headaches, and excitement bringing them on. It was suggested I get the Nerve Pills at Brickner's City Drug Store and try them. I am more than glad I did so as I feel strong again, nerves steady and plenty of energy. Those sickening, prostrating headaches are a thing of the past and I am necessarily very much pleased with the Nerve Pills and their work."

Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills are sold at 50c. a box at dealers or Dr. A. W. Chase Medicine Co., Buffalo, N. Y. See that portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M. D., are on every package.

INSTALLATION

OF THE UNION VETERAN LEGION OFFICERS

Conducted by Col. Ball New Year's Night at Memorial Building—Program of the Evening.

The newly elected officers of encampment No. 31 Union Veteran Legion of this city, were publicly installed at Memorial Hall New Year's night. A goodly number of the old heroes of '61-5 were in attendance with their wives, friends and guests to witness the beautiful ceremony of inducting the men who preserved the nation in to the honorable offices of a patriotic institution.

Promptly at eight o'clock Colonel B. S. Marshall, the retiring commander, called the Encampment to order and announced Past Colonel George A. Ball in waiting to install the newly elected officers.

The commander then ordered all officers to vacate their offices and Colonel Ball assumed command and installed the following comrades as officers of Encampment No. 31 for the year of 1902.

M. O. Nash Jr.—Colonel.
W. A. Ball—Lieut. Colonel.
John Hiser—Major.
Peter Murphy—Surgeon.
Robert Crawford—Chaplain.
Edward Barrett—Officer of the Day.
W. H. Darlington—Quarter Master.
George A. Ball—Trustee for 3 years.

The officers took station in the center of the beautiful Memorial Hall each one with his hands grasping the Old Flag they fought for again vowed to protect it with their lives if need be. After this they were conducted to their respective stations and the command was then turned over to Colonel Nash who received the promotion and acknowledged his grateful thanks.

Colonel Nash announced the following appointments on his Non-Commissioned staff:

Adjutant—George A. Ball.
Officer of the Guard—Frank H. Browne.
Sergt. Maj.—Samuel Hupp.
Quartermaster Sergt.—W. S. Thacker.

Color Sergt.—Charles Babbitt.
Sentinel—David White.
Bugler—Richard Conley.

Some very fine musical selections were then rendered by the international Colored Quartette of Newark, who had been invited. The following well known colored gentlemen composed this organization: Oliver Page, George F. Johnson, Charles W. Stockton and John Ransom. After the music, short addresses were made by Comrade Wyley of Granville, Major Williams U. S. A., also from Granville who is the Military instructor at Denison University, Major Elmer Blizard, Fourth O. N. G. and Col. Clifton H. Rosebraugh, S. A. W. V.

These addresses were also interspersed with vocal selections by the quartette and at the close a vote of thanks was tendered to the colored gentlemen.

AT Y. M. C. A.

SLPENDING PROGRAM THERE ON NEW YEAR'S DAY.

Afternoon and Evening Enjoyed by Many Who Visited the Association Building—The Program.

New Year's day was a most enjoyable time at the Y. M. C. A. building. The games in the gymnasium began at 2 o'clock with the Juniors in regular class work and basket ball, then the Seniors took the floor and gave an exhibition of basket ball. After this game was over the Business men went on the floor and played an interesting game of Volley Ball. This is an unknown game to the public but to those playing and having a knowledge of the game, it is a most interesting game.

A team from the Business Men's Class expect to go Mansfield in the near future to play a Volley Ball team of the Mansfield association so that the greatest of interest is manifest in the training of the men.

During the afternoon between the hours of four and six the Women's Auxiliary served refreshments in the reading room. This feature of the day proved a very delightful part of the day's exercises and was enjoyed by all visiting the building during those hours.

In the evening a program was rendered in Taylor hall complimentary to the public. A series of pictures were shown with the aid of the stereopticon in which the story of a "Funny Little Boy" was told. After the pictures Mrs. E. G. Fitzgerald sang two beautiful solos. Miss Thora McDonald and Miss S. Acenia Price, and Rev. H. N. Miller entertained the audience with a most delightful program. The reading of Little Miss Thora was a revelation of self possession in so young a child before an audience. The story of her reading was clearly and sweetly told.

The reading by Miss Price was fascinating to the listener, carrying her audience away from herself to look at a picture so decidedly fascinating that all thought of the presence of the reader was lost for the moment in following the detail and outline of the tragical event being portrayed. Not many will forget the New Year's reading by Miss Price.

Mrs. E. G. Fitzgerald's singing pleased the audience very much. Miss Florence King adding much by her skillful work at the piano.

It was in the shape of a surprise to all present when Rev. H. N. Miller was introduced to the audience, not as a speaker but an entertainer and the enthusiastic reception and uproarious applause which followed will stand as a testimony to the success of the comic impersonations of country life and courtship presented in this number on the program.

This closed a day of delight and pleasure at the Y. M. C. A. and the members will not soon forget the happenings at the Association building on the first day of 1902.

Deafness Cannot be Cured.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by causing the inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets perfect, hearing is restored, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are cured by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Sent for circulars, free.

AMUSEMENTS.

Few authors have taken the pains to place any of the scenes in comic opera in Sweden, yet the late Gus his last days left a book with a beautiful story and some charming climaxes. The music was written by Max Fackelmeier and the result is one of the operatic novelties of the season. It is entitled, "Amalia Mora". Many opportunities for costumes of a picturesque pattern are fully taken advantage of by its resourceful managers, Messrs. Elrick and LaMarche, and the scenic display is of the highest order. The music is of the rousing as well as patriotic kind and some of the numbers will even cause the "Gods aloft" to shuffle their feet. The company is quite a pretentious one and among the principals are Carolyn Dupre, Blanche Chapman, Emily Gardner, Miss Childs Arthur Donaldson, Winfield Scott, Edgar Temple, Eugene Walton and Frank Pruette.

"Amalia Mora" comes to the Auditorium this evening.

THE VOLUNTEER ORGANIST.

"The Volunteer Organist" is this week's attraction at the Academy of Music, and opened last evening to a full house. The piece teaches a very evident lesson, and one that will appeal to many different sorts of audience, without preaching in the ordinary sense of the term.—The Washington Post, Oct. 8, 1901.

A crowded house applauded to the echo the various telling situations and incidents of a new play, "The Volunteer Organist" at the Academy of Music last night. In many respects it is an excellent dramatic offering, there being plenty of comedy scenes, while the serious side of the story is never brought forward too prominently. One of the best companies that has as yet appears at the above playhouse this season is employed in the presentation of the Volunteer Organist, and the production as a whole is first class in every respect.—Washington Times, Washington, D. C. Oct. 8, 1901.
